

06-12.10.2019 - "Upcycle your life!" Erasmus+ KA1 Youth exchange – INFOPACK
Project description:

The need for the project resulted from our individual needs, because it is hard for us to live in an increasingly littered world. We decided to take matters into our own hands. The aim of our project is to increase public awareness of ecology and strengthen international cooperation in the context of caring for the environment, promoting public awareness, promoting responsible consumer behavior, reflection on the consequences of our everyday behaviors and habits, indicating that the action of one man affects the functioning of entire communities. We care about strengthening youth activity in local communities.

The youth exchange itself which will take place in Poronin. It will be attended by young people from 5 countries: Poland, Cyprus, Estonia, Italy, Romania, 7 people plus 1 leader from each country, a total of 40 people. The main methods of work are - workshops, presentations, discussion on the forum, happening, creative / artistic workshops, conversations with residents, tourists, peers. Working with social media, using English, evaluation activities, national evenings, reflections and impressions. Each of us will participate in the project through their involvement and support for colleagues, active participation in the implementation of the schedule, gaining knowledge about a healthy lifestyle, greater social and health awareness.

The main dissemination activities are: happening, upcycling workshops, zero-waste workshops, school visits, films, graphic works. The target groups of our activities will be primarily our communities in which we live, we will try to get information about the project to the decision-makers in our communities, such as municipal offices, cities, and institutions responsible for waste management. Thanks to the project, we will become conscious consumers and conscious citizens. We will get respect for human work and its products, we will be more attentive, we will be more wise to approach purchasing decisions. We will take more social and health awareness, we will pay more attention to what we can do for the environment, the immediate environment. Thanks to the project, we will become more creative - we implement innovative thinking about objects thanks to which we will find new applications for ordinary items. Thanks to the project, we will improve our communication and language skills, open up new people and new ideas.
